

Medicinal Plant and Natural Product Research Traditional and Modern Aspects

International Symposium

Ulaanbaatar, Mongolia

September 21 - 22, 2012

Medicinal Plant and Natural Product Research
Traditional and Modern Aspects

Welcome to the International Symposium

The Austrian and Mongolian organisers cordially invite you to participate in the International Symposium in Ulaanbaatar, Mongolia.

The Symposium will be held at the National University of Mongolia from September 21 – 22, 2012.

The organizers intend to gather experts and scientists in medicinal plant research from all over the world and invite them to present their most recent research and to describe current scientific trends. A special focus should be laid on traditional aspects of medicinal plants and herbal medicinal products. Scientific contributions related to animal healthcare would also be appreciated.

We will do our best to create a convenient atmosphere in the interesting city of Ulaanbaatar.

We would like to wish you a warm welcome to this International Symposium!

Best regards,
